Journals Pertinent to International Relations

Those journals noted as being available in a library database are accessible to UNO students at on-campus computers. UNO students may also connect at off-campus computers after confirming they are eligible by logging-in through their library accounts. Students who have not created a library account may click here to retrieve instructions.

Some are published open-access, meaning that they require no library log-in or personal subscription. These listings include URLs, but please remember that the Internet is a volatile place, and that URLs may change unexpectedly. Searching Google for the title of an open-access journal will typically find it any new address.

This directory was updated in January 2017.
